

Cathy and Mike Ellis, owners of Senior Care Options, maintain active Residential Care for the Elderly (RCFE) Administrator Certificates

Licensing requires ongoing education and strict scrutiny by the State of California.

This certification, which is the same as that used by executive directors of large Assisted Living properties, is not typically maintained by referral sources.

We believe that the on-going professional development and training associated with an RCFE Administrator's Certificate helps Senior Care Options to provide a high level of service to our clients, where understanding of care standards, evolving senior medical standards, industry knowledge and real-world state priorities are critical to a successful placement.
